Gambling man Detroit councilman speaks to group

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Detroit City Councilman Gil Hill, who admitted he has voted three times against Detroit casino gambling referenda in the past, told the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce members last week that he now favors approval of the current city gambling issues.

Hill, who also is starring in the current Hollywood film "Beverly Hills Cop III", said opponents of Detroit casino gambling "actually told a lot of lies" in the last referendum issue and "didn't paint a fair picture of the city."

He also claimed, "Those against casino gambling vote no on everything." The colorful and sometimes controversial councilman claimed more than 200,000 Detroit voters were queried in a recent survey and "62 percent state they favor adding casino gambling to Detroit's Greektown area."

"The anti-casino people are the same people who are saying we shouldn't help (Detroit Tiger owner) Mike Ilitch, who is trying to erect a new stadium in Detroit," Hill said.

"In reality the City of Detroit owns Tiger Stadium and if it renovated, the city will have to pay for it," he said.

On the issue of a possible broken contract with the city if the Tigers seek a new stadium, Hill said three precedents are already on the books in professional football—as he cited the past moves made by the (Oakland-Los Angeles) Raiders, (St. Louis-Phoenix) Cardinals and (Baltimore-Indianapolis) Colts.

Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally and Community Development Director Jane Downing both have announced their support for having casinos ultimately located in Romulus. Both Detroit and Romulus would need Lansing approval before such casinos could open in either city.

Hill pointed to the initial success of Windsor, Canada casinos as one of the reasons that Detroit should enter the casino market.

The Detroit councilman also said, "We need a gambling site in Greektown that doesn't suck all the life out of the community it serves, like in Atlantic City."

"Ours would be a free-standing gambling site that would encourage visitors to use the rest of the city, including recreational areas, hotels and shopping areas," Hill added.

He reminded Romulus chamber members, however, that the Aug. 2 vote is strictly advisory and that the final decision still rests with Michigan Gov. John Engler.

"We are asking such a heavy casino mandate," Hill said, "that Engler will sign such a casino okay, even if Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer remains opposed to it."

Hill cited such statistics as, "130,000 Detroit residents do not have jobs and Cobo Hall was only rented for 34 days last year" as some of the reasons that casino gambling is needed in Detroit.

"We can't snub our noses at anything that will pay taxes," Hill said. "I'd love to see casino gambling in Greektown," he continued.

If you find people in Detroit who are against casino gambling, Hill said, ask them what they would offer in its place for extra city revenue.

Hill praised Ilitch as a great corporate leader with vision. He is "not a carpet bagger," as some try to brand him. "One day he may leave Detroit and move either to Romulus or even Florida (where a stadium already exists for his use)," Hill said.

When the crime issue was discussed, Hill said, what we need today "are people like my mom to raise our kids. When she raised us as a single parent back in Birmingham, Ala., she didn't allow our temper to flare."

Citizen feud is growing

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The growing feud between R.P. Lilly, a spokesperson for Romulus Environmentalists Caring About People (RECAP) and Charles E. Griffiths III, a local city critic, escalated this week.

The pair initially became embroiled in verbal confrontations regarding the planned $6.1 million liquid injection well in Romulus, with Lilly strongly opposed to the well and Griffiths favoring it.

Recently, Griffiths filed a complaint with the Romulus Police Department claiming that Lilly's wife assaulted him outside the temporary City Hall chambers.

Lilly on Monday night told the City Council that, "Mr. Griffiths, alias Mr. Ray is trying to smear my wife."

Griffiths in turn has written to Lilly stating, "It has come to my attention that you are publicly accusing me of using an alias. This is a total and absolute malicious fabrication."

"An alias is a second, or subsequent name, used concurrently with one's primary name. I have never used the names 'Ray' and 'Griffiths' concurrently, therefore, I have not used an alias as you emphatically state."

Griffiths explained that he changed his name from Ray in 1991 to that of his maternal grandparents, whom he has lived with most of his life.

"I demand you cease and desist labeling my legal and valid name change as an alias. These malicious and untrue statements must stop or I will seek substantial monetary damages," Griffiths concluded.

School district to sue state to retain funds

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus Community School District announced Monday night it is seeking help from the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) in the battle against alleged State of Michigan "discrimination" against local "at risk" students and their families.

The school trustees heard Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell has sent to the ACLU seeking legal help for local students, who he claims are being discriminated against in a proposed state aid bill that includes an additional $230 million for "poor children who are underachieving."

Joel Carr, assistant superintendent, told the board members, "The state budget item was increased tenfold, but Romulus 'at risk' students will not receive a penny. Large districts, such as Detroit, will be the big winners in the proposed bill."

In his June 17 letter to the ACLU, Bedell called the bill "unfair and illegal, because Romulus has a large concentration of 'at risk' children and yet they are being denied access to a substantial amount of funding included in the proposed state aid bill."

Bedell included with his letter a chart that details the number of free and reduced price lunches which total 30.9

percent in the Romulus School District.

In the chart, the district schools and the number of free lunches served this past year are: Barth, 96; Cory, 147; Halecreek, 147; Merriman, 157; Wick, 211; Middle School, 152 and Senior High, 110.

That includes 1,020 free lunches (and 190 discounted lunches) for the 3,923 district students.

Bedell's letter continued, "The new finance system introduced by the State has destroyed all of the advantages of having a large tax base."

"We have been grandfathered and held harmless at an expenditure per pupil of $6,750. The expenditure gap will close (over a period of time), because we will be forced to make program reductions and hold the line in contract negotiations," Bedell wrote.

"To deny our 'at risk' children access to additional funds in 1994-95, because we used to be wealthy is unfair," Bedell's message went on.

In stressing the discrimination part of the matter, Bedell said, "This legislation actually provides discrimination not only against all poor children in formerly out-of-formula school districts, but it hurts a large concentration of African-American children as well."

Bedell also listed six school districts in Wayne County that will not receive reimbursement for their 'at risk' pupils, including Romulus and River Rouge, which have "substantial minority populations, 42 percent and 38 percent respectively."

In his summary, Bedell wrote: "We can count on practically a zero growth in revenues. So we will be unable to make up the funds denied our 'at risk' children without violating collective bargaining agreements or making massive general education cuts."

Bedell added a special note to his ACLU letter stating that in the early 80s the Romulus School District and 20 other Michigan districts sued the State of Michigan regarding the state aid formula.

First the Supreme Court at that time refused to hear the Romulus plus 20 other districts' case.

Water, sewer rates approved

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Despite an initial protest from Councilman Jimmie Raspberry, the Romulus City Council members approved a 13.4 percent hike in the city water and sewer rates.

The new rates per 1,000 cubic feet are: residential sewer, $12.12; non-residential sewer, $12.44 and all water, $9.10.

Raspberry had asked that the rates be rejected as unneeded and excessive, but his motion was defeated 5-1.

Councilman Noah "Pete" Bergeron then offered a motion that would "receive and file" the rate request, that would in effect approve them unless two-thirds of the council members rejected them within the next 10 days. The water and sewer ordinance states that the annual hikes

Are these increases needed?

- Ellis Pennington

will automatically go into effect unless rejected by the council.

Councilman Ellis Pennington asked Mayor Beverly McAnally before the vote on either motion, "Are these increases needed?"

McAnally responded, "Yes, or the city's general fund will end up subsidizing large water and sewer users such as GM Powertrain or Metro Airport."

McAnally then stated that the new combined water and sewer rate will be $21.22, compared to higher rates in Plymouth, $29.99; Garden City, $26.26; Canton Township, $23.79; Wayne, $23.63; Inkster, $23.00; Westland, $21.69 and Plymouth Township, 21.77.

In an unrelated item, City Council members also followed McAnally's recommendation and approved a proclamation designating 1994 as the Michigan International Year of the Family in Romulus.

McAnally said that Lt. Gov. Connie Binsfeld is the chairperson of the statewide effort and Trudy Duncombe Archer (wife of Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer) and Michelle Engler (wife of Gov. John Engler) are co-chairpersons.

The council members also designated Mayor pro tem Mary Ann Banks as the city representative to the effort that will include numerous pro-family activities throughout the rest of the year.

Man wounds couple, takes own life

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

A former Wayne-Westland School District employee killed himself after shooting his ex-girlfriend and her new boyfriend with a .357 Magnum outside the woman's Westland home on the 8200 block of Gray Street early Saturday morning.

John Gehrke, a 39-year-old Garden City resident, was found dead from a self-inflicted wound to the head with the same gun he used to shoot the victims, Westland police Sgt. Marc Stobbe said.

The shooting occurred at approximately 4:08 a.m. when Annette Burke, a 31-year-old Westland resident and Paul Riopelle, a 38-year-old Westland resident, returned to Burke's home after an evening out, Stobbe said.

"She was with her new boyfriend in the backyard when he (Gehrke) showed up with a handgun. She was shot in the stomach and right arm and so was he (Riopelle)," Stobbe said.

Gehrke then allegedly fled on foot and police began searching for the gunman, until they received a call from a Gray Street resident at 1 p.m., notifying them that a body was at the end of the street, according to Stobbe.

The couple remains in stable condition at an undisclosed hospital.

Burke had broken off her relationship with Gehrke five years ago, Stobbe said, but the man continued to follow her around and show up at her home.

"She made an assault and battery report in 1992. He beat her up and was prosecuted," Stobbe said.

According to a former school district official, Gehrke made several threatening remarks during his employment with the district about other employees and superiors.

"He had threatened other women and beat some women up," the former official said.

Citizen criticizes cops

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A Romulus citizen wrote to Police Chief Robert Brown recently to complain about the "Don't bother me, I'm too busy" image, he feels is too prevalent in the city today.

Leo L. Knasiak of Romulus wrote that he phoned the police department on June 13 to seek information on what was being done on a graffiti matter first discovered in May.

Knasiak said he received no return call from the police officer and so he called headquarters again on June 16.

At that time, Knasiak said, he received "static" from a person, who "Did not identify them self when answering a city phone, took excess time in answering the phone and needed to take repeat information over again."

Knasiak wrote, "I, like most other citizens, are (sic) trying to figure out who some of the city employees are suppose to be working for, because they all have the same excuse 'I'm too busy.'"

He asked Brown to inform his police officers that "I'm too busy" is unacceptable and should never be used as an excuse for not handling a situation.

"Since moving back here in 1987, I have found that this city's elected officials and employees have attitudes toward the citizens, which reflects a 'Don't bother me, I'm too busy, feeling,' Knasiak wrote.

"Only when an election or millage question is on the ballot, he said, do the incumbents become 'your long lost friend.'"

Knasiak urged Brown to eliminate such "good old boy philosophies" so that, "when you ask voters for additional monies to improve your facility, they will be at your side with their support."

Brown could not be reached for comment.

Candidate requests support

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne County Commissioner candidate Len Straub visited the Romulus City Council members Monday night to solicit support for his primary battle on Aug. 2.

Straub, 50, a Huron Township landscaper, said he only entered the race at the last minute because he felt he wasn't getting complete answers to questions he was asking current county commissioners.

Straub, who bills himself as a non-politician style candidate, said he will campaign on two main issues: improving the area infrastructure and protecting the environment.

Straub complained that, "Wayne County is the fifth largest county in the state, and yet it still has dirt roads in Sumpster and Huron townships and sub-quality roadways in Romulus."

Wayne County is the fifth largest county in the state, and yet it still has dirt roads in Sumpster and Huron townships and sub-quality roadways in Romulus. If citizens can work together to save the spotted owl why can't they work at least as hard to save human beings?

- Len Straub

Wayne County Commissioner candidate

If elected this fall, Straub said he would attend local meetings that sought to address either problem and would work hard to entice communities to work together.

"If citizens can work together to save the spotted owl," he said, "why can't they work at least as hard to save human beings?"

Straub said he also is concerned about the "sluggish-ness Detroit Metro Airport leaders are showing in solving the airport noise matter and effecting the Romulus home and business buyout campaign."

The candidate also expressed opposition to the liquid injection well effort, which drew enthusiastic applause from anti-well individuals in attendance.

Group home study urged

Concerned about what he said he considers an unusually large number of Foster Family Group Homes in Romulus, Councilman Noah "Pete" Bergeron has asked that state Department of Social Service agents attend a City Council study session on the subject soon.

The long standing issue has been argued about by citizens and council members for years, but nothing has been resolved, Bergeron said.

The request received unanimous 6-0 support from council members, with Mayor pro tem Mary Ann Banks missing from the meeting.

Sidewalk waiver called premature

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

General Motors Powertrain Division representatives technically withdrew their bid for a waiver on sidewalk construction Monday night, after admitting they were probably "premature" in making the request.

Powertrain Plant Manager Robert Ranka had written a letter to the City Council members dated June 21 stating that the auto plant on Ecorse Road would be expanded at least 10.7 percent, as the facility is transformed to manufacture V8 engines, as well as the V6 types it already was building.

The building is currently 1,400,000 square feet, Ranko said, and the addition will include another 150,000 square feet.

Ranka said he was under the impression that city rules would force the GM Powertrain business to spend $500,000 to place sidewalks on Ecorse Road and possibly fill a drainage culvert.

Ranka said currently there is no sidewalk to either the east or west of GM property and there is virtually no pedestrian traffic on that section of Ecorse Road.

For those reasons, Ranka said, he was asking the City Council members for either a waiver from sidewalk construction or at least a delay in imposing the production until other sidewalks were in the area.

Councilman Michael Prybyla opposed the request stating that the GM plant recently had received a second tax abatement from the city and "we always require smaller firms to comply with our sidewalk ordinance."

Councilman Ellis Pennington added, "I think you are definitely in the wrong place. The City Council cannot grant you a variance on this sidewalk ordinance issue. You need to go to the Board of Appeals. All we, as council members, can do is rescind the sidewalk ordinance, and I know we will never do that."

Ranka asked if he should withdraw his request or have the action tabled. Pennington said, "No action was taken, you can just leave and seek a session before the Board of Appeals."

Edited version of rating is due

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne-Westland Superintendent of Schools Dr. Larry Thomas will be releasing edited evaluations of his job performance after months of requests and denials for the information by members of the school administrative office.

According to Board President Francis Winter, the information has been requested from employee groups as well as by The Associated Newspapers, and with the opinion from Michigan Association of Schools Boards representative Linda Bruin, the information should be released.

The measure was approved unanimously by board members, with trustee Vicki Welty absent.

Bruin, State Attorney General Frank Kelley and school district attorney Russell Slat-kin advised that the information should be released under the Freedom of Information Act, as it was requested.

However, Bruin's opinion added that the documents can be redacted, or edited, leaving out other district officials names, statements that affect the operation of the school district, the ability of the superintendent to function or his opportunity for future employment, according to Thomas.

"Her (Bruin's) interpretation did not support either law firm. She said it should be released after you deduct certain materials," Thomas said.

Thomas will make the initial deductions, and with the approval of Bruin, the information will be released at the first regular meeting in July.

"I think that would be looked upon as censorship," Board Treasurer Patricia Brown said.

Historical museum popular with visitors

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Many Americans, who trace their roots to the Romulus area, visit the Romulus Historical Museum each year, Historical Society President Pearl Varner told the Romulus Kiwanis recently.

Varner said the society collects and preserves various abstracts, family histories, paper documents, maps and genealogical materials for displays during the museum open houses from 1 until 4 p.m. each Sunday.

Residents from Texas and Connecticut have visited the museum to trace their family's roots, Varner told the Kiwanians.

The museum is operated by volunteers and admission is free, she explained.

While visiting with the Kiwanians, Varner was presented with a $500 check from immediate past Romulus Kiwanis President Russell Hurlburt. The funds were collected at a recent Romulus Michigan Week Festival pancake breakfast.

The Kiwanis Club meets each Thursday night at the Romulus Recreation Building on Bibbins Street.

Student bound for Capitol Hill political class

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

Belleville High School senior Sarah Manning is one of 260 students who will participate in the Junior Statesmen Summer School at Georgetown University this summer.

Sarah, who is a member of the National Honor Society and a teen volunteer at St. Joseph's Hospital,

"It's a once in a lifetime opportunity," said Sarah. "It's a chance to study the U.S. government in person and to live through the process."

Sarah hopes that the president will address the group. During the past administration, former President George Bush spoke to the junior statesmen, she said.

In preparation for the summer session, Sarah is reading a 19-chapter book on American government.

A busy agenda awaits her when she arrives. The students will have breakfast at 7:15 a.m., and then question senators on Capitol Hill from 9 to 11 a.m. The next 1-1/2 hours are devoted to interviews for their term papers, and then the students take a lunch break. Government classes are scheduled in the afternoon with dinner at 5:15 to 6:50 p.m. and then an opportunity for student debates on current issues at the Congressional Workshop is slated from 7 to 9:45 p.m. After an hour of free time, a roll call is scheduled before curfew.

For 54 years, the Junior Statesmen Summer School has offered a rigorous academic challenge to outstanding high school students. The curriculum includes a systematic introduction to American government and politics, a high level speakers program and student debates.

Classes are scheduled six days a week, and students reside in university dormitories and use campus classrooms and libraries.

She plans to leave for Washington, D.C. on July 17, and hopes to collect contributions to fund her trip before that time, she said.

"With the cost of tuition, room and board, a total of $2,175 is needed to fund my trip. In addition, I must find sources to help me pay for 15 lunches while on Capitol Hill plus air fare to Washington, D.C.," Sarah said. "A donation of any size would help my efforts immensely."

Sarah is seeking tax-deductible donations to help fund her trip. Contributions may be sent to the Junior Statesmen Program Director, 650 Bair Island Road, Suite 201, Redwood City, Cal. 94063, with a notation identifying the check as a scholarship raised by Sarah Manning.

Library features summer reading programs, guests

Reading programs on Tuesday mornings and Wednesday evenings at the Fred C. Fischer Library are encouraging youngsters to read during the summertime.

Special guest on July 6 is magician Ming the Magnificent. On July 13, Rita Kirch will present songs and stories and July 20 has been designated as movie and popcorn night. On July 27, Ronald McDonald will appear along with an awards presentation and refreshments.

At 11 a.m. on July 12, Ranger Rose Davis will present Camping in Michigan State Parks and Terry Schoenbach and the K-9 Corps will present Lost in the Woods on July 19. A costume party, refreshments and awards ceremony are slated on July 26.

"The summer reading program gives children an incentive to read for pleasure during the summer. As soon as the members is signed up he or she may begin reading," said Pat Jahr of the library staff.

Every child will list the library books read on a Reading Record kept at the check-out desk. Members are awarded Read-A-Lottery tickets for each book read and the tickets will be drawn at the final party and prizes will be awarded.

Children who read at least one book will receive a certificate and those who have earned 10 tickets will receive a white ribbon. Red ribbons will be presented to those with 20 tickets and blue ribbon certificates will be awarded to those who have 30 tickets.

For non-readers, ages 3 to 6, the Read-to-Me program is available at Camp Read. Children signed up for the Read-to-Me series may attend the weekly special event at 7 p.m. each Wednesday through July 27.

19 school employees to retire

Nineteen employees of the Van Buren Public Schools will retire this June.

The staff members who are taking advantage of an early retirement incentive program include six high school employees, six middle school employees, five elementary school staff members and two administration building employees.

The cost of the program is $665,000, and the district plans to recover the amount in approximately four years by hiring replacements at lower salaries.

Opinion

Timing is everything

Other than the candidates, their staff members and veteran politicians, there is not much excitement or anticipation focused on the Aug. 2 primary.

A recent poll revealed that more than 25 percent of respondents were not interested in the primary races because they are engaged in summer activities. Others replied that August does not seem "timely" for a primary election.

During the past 10 years, the percentage of voter turnout in Michigan has ranged between 17.8 percent in 1990 and 20.6 percent in 1986. In 1992, 24.5 percent of the registered voters cast their ballots in the August primary.

Unfortunately, but predictably, the summer months are not a time for serious decision making and high level negotiations. Although business continues during the summer months in both the public and private sectors, we often find that weighty matters are postponed until the fall. The reason for this is obvious - many people are either on vacation or preparing for vacations, some parents are busy readying their children for camp or summer programs and other individuals are enjoying the short summer season with special events and activities.

And, a more casual attitude prevails during the summertime, when the living is easy. During our short summer season, our attention is often diverted by activities such as golf, vacation travel, baseball games and family activities - not politics.

In many ways, the Aug. 2 primary is an exciting race. Four Democrats are battling for a place on the ballot to challenge Gov. John Engler, and six Democrats and two Republicans are vying for the nominations for the U.S. Senate seat.

Closer to home, four Republicans and three Democrats are vying for the seat which will be vacated by retiring U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, and several well-known politicians in Wayne, Westland, Canton Township and Van Buren Township have entered county and state primary races.

If the primary race were in September - the month that youngsters return to school and the traditional vacation season ends - there would be more excitement centered around the primary race. From time to time, there have been discussions about moving the primary election to a more "timely" date, but despite the logic behind the suggestion, no action has been taken.

Could it possibly be that some of the powers that be prefer to take their chances with 25 percent or less of the population at the polls? Is there a reason that, despite the conversations about boosting the number of primary election voters, a date change which would tend to accomplish the goal has not been expedited?

A quieter celebration

This week, many area residents will begin preparing for the annual Fourth of July celebration.

Along with the paper plates, plastic spoons, hot dogs and apple pies, many will also be preparing to celebrate with fireworks.

Every year, fire department rescue personnel throughout the area issue cautions and safety warnings regarding the serious harm these explosives can do. They issue horror stories of injuries and the losses of limbs and eyes - to no avail. Throughout the area, stands and temporary stores go up and the devices are sold - without much caution or warning.

We urge those who find it necessary to make loud, offensive noises and disturb the peaceful celebrations of their more grown-up neighbors to exercise great caution with these devices and to ensure that they are not used by or within the close proximity of children who are, every year, left without fingers, eyes and sometimes arms because the "grown ups" responsible for safety were not.

Instead of purchasing illegal and dangerous fireworks for Independence Day celebrations, a wiser choice may be to attend one or more of the community-sponsored fireworks displays in the area. Most western Wayne County cities and townships sponsor their own fireworks displays with qualified, trained personnel to stage the spectacular sky shows - events where safety is first and foremost in the sponsors' priorities.

Resident responds to charges

To the editor:

Why does Environmental Disposal Systems, Inc. (EDS) and their puppet Mr. Charles E. Griffiths III alias Charles Ray have to resort to the tactics of character assassination just to get even with RECAP and myself? They have totally distorted the facts and picked up bits and pieces out of the gutter to attempt to smear my wife's good name. They have attempted to make my wife look like a common criminal. This is the furthest thing from the truth. My wife is a fine, honorable hard-working mother of five children and a grandmother of five. She has always displayed high moral values and is of excellent character. Anyone who knows Helena knows she is not a person of violence.

What are Mr. Charles Griffith III, alias Charles Ray's, motives? Employees of EDS have gone to the 34th District Court to try to find something in my record to use against me, but there is nothing there. My wife and I have always lived within the law, and have been good citizens. Can Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray say the same??? It is true that we do not reside in Romulus but we paid almost $6,000 in property taxes to the City of Romulus in 1993. Does this entitle us to our opinion about matters in the city? I came to Romulus in 1953 long before Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray was born. My wife and I resided in Romulus in 1957 when we were married. I have been in or around Romulus most of my adult life, and those who know us know we are not common criminals. We have been involved in many community activities (Past President of the Romulus Rotary Club, and Rotarians) and have been involved in many charitable functions.

Can I be held responsible for working for Buffalo Tank most all my life, and manufacturing and selling tanks that were built to legal standards that existed back then? Nothing illegal was done at Buffalo Tank during my employment years. During my early years of Buffalo Tank I was a union steward and chief committee man. I held membership in the Boilermakers Local until I retired in 1985. Ask anyone who knows me if I am anti-union. This is an example of how wrong EDS's speech writers can be My comment was simply that it was scary to see the 50 to 60 people gather at the First of America Bank parking lot the early morning of the election. I said it was like watching a Jimmy Hoffa movie! The fact of the matter is that is scary to watch a large group of highly-paid strangers come into your town and take over. EDS does not deny that they spent a lot of money to "protect their investment." Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray believed EDS had the right to do anything to affect the outcome of the election, but we in RECAP had not voice in the matter. Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray calls me the choir director of RECAP. Well at least I write my own material, I am not the Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen show.

Why has Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray changed his name? Is this his stage name for the conquest of the City of Romulus. Does he have something to hide? I am sure the truth will surface someday.

Rumor has it he is looking to be the first City Manager for the City of Romulus. My wife is absolutely not guilty of assault and battery. There were heated words exchanged in the lobby but Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray was not "body slammed" by my wife as he states. There is no substance to this allegation. I would be so ashamed to make a statement such as that!!!

Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray made a police report but it was closed, and no charges filed. Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray described a woman wearing a white T-shirt and shorts with white short hair. This is not a description of my wife.

Who was this mystery person??? Or is it a figment of his imagination!!!

It is very sad that they have to resort to these tactics. Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray has stated that he is very worried about the financial condition of the city I wonder why he is wasting the taxpayer's money with false accusations! Why can't he direct his efforts to something more meaningful and make a positive contribution to the community instead of aligning himself with these intruders, attempting to divide the community. If Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray was a property owner and paid taxes to the city of Romulus, he would very likely want to protect his investment and would feel quite differently.

My wife and I have been subjected to roofing tacks in our driveway, phone calls all during the day and night, and verbal abuse. Statements have been made that "they will get us any way they can". This is just another chapter in their operating manual of procedures.

My wife and I stand on our track record and our reputation, can Mr. Charles Griffith III alias Charles Ray say the same???

R.P. and Helena Lilly

Romulus

Editor's Note: Charles Ray changed his name to that of his maternal grandmother's family legally in 1991. He has filed a police report alleging that Helena Lilly assaulted him immediately following a Romulus City Council meeting in the hall outside the council chambers.

Health reform plan criticized

To the editor:

Health reform is on the minds of many Americans. The idea of every citizen receiving health care is appealing. But will sacrifices have to be made to ensure all American citizens are included in a national health care plan? Will some be left out? Are some at risk? Yes, the unborn child that was unexpected.

President Clinton's health reform plan and other proposed plans would provide every American with a guaranteed basic benefits package of health services. However, included in the basic package are so-called reproductive health services, including abortion. People might get their insurance from different providers, but every insurance plan will have to, by law, include at least the basic benefits package.

Although abortion is legal, the number of Americans who do not want abortion in a national health care plan is staggering. It was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association, May 18, 1994, edition, that 70 percent of Americans did not want abortion included in any national health plan even if no extra tax or premium were necessary. Also according to a CBS, New York Times poll conducted in March 1993, 72 percent of Americans said that abortion should not be a part of the basic mandated benefits package in any health reform plan. In addition, a November 1992, Wirthlin poll found that 84 percent of Americans oppose the use of abortion as birth control. A national health care plan which includes abortion would encourage the use of abortion in this way.

How would you be paying for abortions? Most Americans do not know their premium funds will be pooled together in insurance groups, which will then pay for medical services, including abortions. Thus, everyone's premiums will go into the combined funds that are used to pay for abortions.

Employers will be required to pay the cost of premiums for their employees, with employees paying a small portion. For the poor, unemployed, and otherwise uninsured, the government, i.e., the taxpayers, will pay the health insurance premiums.

Making abortion part of a guaranteed benefits package would also require all insurance groups to provide abortion services within the area it serves. This could result in a blooming of abortion clinics across Michigan and the United States.

The bottom line is that we will all be forced to pay for every single abortion that takes place. Let's say the abortionist charged $200 for the abortion (many abortionists charge more), that would result in Americans paying nearly $300 million yearly on birth control for elective abortions. Wouldn't that money be better spent in helping people with real medical problems.

Health care is an important issue. It is too important to forget about the future citizens of America, the unborn. Keep abortion out of any national health care plan.

Barbara Lister, President
Right to Life of Michigan

35th annual golf championships dates are set

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Area and local golfers apparently have been wondering about it, and have been asking about it - so let's not keep them in suspense any longer.

The 35th annual City Golf Championships will be staged the weekend of Aug. 6 at Fellows Creek.

The numerous calls to the Associated Newspapers sports desk indicate that the golfers are anxious and eager to compete in the popular summer classic that for the past 34 years has brought together some of the finest men and women amateur golfers in the area for the two-day tournament.

"We encourage those who want to play in this year's tournament to sign up as soon as possible so that we can put together foursomes that are compatible," said Bill Hawley, who has been the tournament director for some 20 of the 35 tournaments. "Those who have competed in this (tournament) in the past know how popular and challenging it can be.

Hawley noted that in the past as many as 150 golfers have compete in the championships, however, he added that lately number has dwindled.

"The course has asked us to keep the number within 100," Hawley added. "And we will abide by their wishes."

The two-day tournament will be staged at Fellows Creek Golf Course, located just east of the I-275 Expressway in Canton Township at 2936 Lotz Road.

ated Newspapers and the participating parks and recreation departments of Canton Township, Westland, Wayne, Romulus and Inkster, the competition will determine the city champs of the cities (and township) involved.

Golfers will play 18 holes on Saturday (Aug. 6) and return for the second and final round scheduled for Aug. 7.

Tournament officials stress that separate city championships will be staged simultaneously for amateur male and female golfers of all participating cities. There will also be an independent flight for those who do not live in the participating communities, but wish to play in the tournament.

There will be additional flights only if there total entry is sufficient from a city.

Trophies will be awarded to those golfers who finish first, second and third in each of the flights. This year, there will also be hole-in-one and closest-to-the-pin contests.

As in the past, the tournament medalist (low scorer) will be presented an additional trophy. However, in case of a tie for a trophy, golfers will conduct a sudden death play-off to determine the winner.

Darrin Kent, representing the city of Westland, captured his second consecutive tournament title a year ago and has been one of the forces to contend with in recent years. However, such blue chip amateurs as Kevin Ryan of Inkster who has won at least four of the 35 titles, and Matt Wiley, a veteran golfer out of Canton Township, have been consistent challengers for the title.

In addition to the trophies, golfers also will be competing to qualify for the state parks and recreation championship. The state finals will be conducted later this summer. The

Iowa to honor Inkster great

A former Inkster High School cage star will be honored this fall by the University of Iowa.

Rich Walker, an assistant basketball coach at the University of Iowa, will be inducted into the Bowling Green State Hall of Fame according to college officials.

The announcement was made by from Jack Gregory, Bowling Green State University (BGSU) director of athletics.

Official induction ceremonies into the coveted hall will be Sept. 16 in Bowling Green, Gregory, added.

Only 131 athletes and people and the BGSU 1983-84 hockey team have been installed in the Hall during the 31-year history of the school.

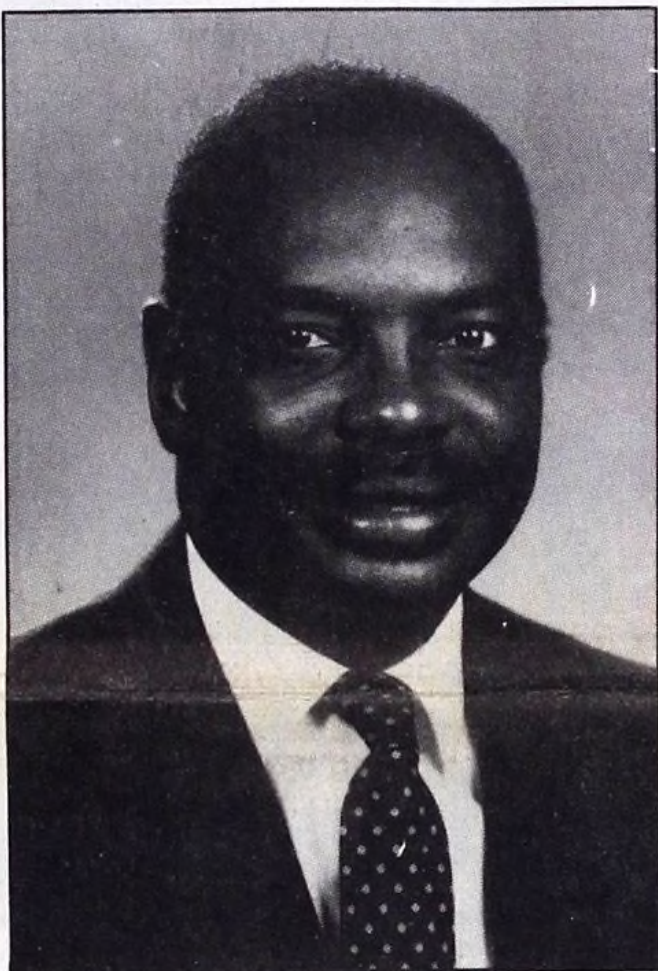

Walker served as coach under Tom Davis for four seasons. The former Inkster cage great has assisted with three Hawkeye teams that have advanced to the second round of the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament.

In 1993, Iowa led the nation in rebounding, ranked nationally in scoring and field goal percentage defense.

A native of Inkster, Walker also served on the coaching staff at Bowling Green State after earning all-American honors as a player.

He earned his bachelor's degree (1971) and master's (1973) degrees from Bowling Green State.

Walker's former high school coach, George Thompson Jr., remembers Walker as one of the best all-around players that he has ever coached.

"There were a couple of games where he scored 50 points or better, and you have to remember that was during an era when there weren't three-pointers.

"If he had played his high school ball today, I would hate to think what kind of records he would have set," Thompson commented.

In the meantime, Canton Township will conduct a three-week tennis class from July 11-July 29. Residents and nonresidents are urged to register, according to Bob Dates, recreation director.

The instructor for the three-week course is Kristen Harrison.

Lessons will be offered at the Griffin Park courts for youngsters in the following age groups: 4-6 (little swingers); 7-15 (juniors) and 16 and up (adults). There will be two lessons per week, recreation officials said.

Close but ... Romulus still looking for 1st win

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Garrett Gutkowski did his part from the mound, but the Romulus Cardinals left too many runners stranded on the base paths and dropped a close 7-6 decision to Brownstown in a National Division, senior baseball circuit game last week.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Cardinals, who are still looking for their first victory this season.

Gutkowski failed to get the support on defense from his teammates and was charged with the loss.

In the meantime, Lincoln Park West continued to lead the division despite their first loss of the campaign. The Parkers have amassed an impressive 7-1 record and hold a two-victory cushion over runner-up, Brownstown.

The Romulus Knights chalked up an impressive 7-0 victory over Melvindale in the senior circuit, American Division.

Pitcher Sean Dick went the distance and allowed only five Melvindale batters to reach base.

State unveils regional grid lineup

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Wasting little time, officials of the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) announced regional assignments for the upcoming high school football season.

MHSAA officials stressed that the regional assignments will not be adjusted for schools which add or drop football prior to the beginning of the 1994-95 school year.

The new lineups have been approved by the MHSAA Executive Committee during an executive meeting last month in East Lansing.

Traditional rivals, such as Wayne Memorial - Westland John Glenn; Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem will find themselves listed in Region II where there some 85 schools that will be competing for the Class AA state title.

Dearborn Fordson, the defending champ, is not in Region II, but the Tractors are in Region III where the state powerhouse Detroit Catholic Center and the majority of the Detroit high schools have been assigned.

The format to qualify for the pre-regional playoffs has not changed, MHSAA officials added.

"The top four teams in each of the regions will advance to a pre-district playoff," noted MHSAA official Charlotte Stokes, "and the winners will advance to the regionals."

Belleville, which barely missed making its debut in post-season action a year ago, also is assigned to Region II which consists of teams representing Ann Arbor Huron and Pioneer,

Belleville driver leads tour

the season.

Belleville driver Scott Kalitta has joined his father Connie as the only other two-time Top Fuel winner on the National Hot Rod Association/Winston Drag Racing Series tour after his victory last weekend in the second annual Western Auto Nationals staged at Heartland Park, Topeka, (HPT) Kansas.

In his quest for the title, Kalitta and his American International Airways entry defeated three former Winston Champions for the crown.

In round one he not only defeated Joe Amato of Old Forge, Pa., but took the points lead from him as well.

Kalitta then jolted Don Prudhomme of Granada Hills, Calif., and Kenny Bernstein of Richardson, Texas, to get to his fourth final round of

The victory lifted the Knights' record to 6-5 on the year, one-game behind the Brownstown Athletics and Flat Rock.

In other league action, Alex Hammond fanned 15 of the 32 batters he faced as the Braves disposed of Brownstown in a game that was settled when Steve Justice drilled a bases-loaded, two-out single to drive in the winning runs for Romulus in the bottom of the seventh.

In the American Division, Junior League, the Mariners, representing Brownstown (No. 2) hold a slim lead over Lincoln Park. The Mariners have piled up a 7-2 record, while Lincoln Park is a notch down in second place with a 6-5 mark.

Brownstown, however, remains the team to catch in the National Division of the Junior League.

And with an impeccable 10-0 record and the second-best team in the league, Flat Rock, trailing far behind (3-7) is appears that the Rangers have the title all to themselves. The third - and only other team in the league - the Romulus Royals have failed to find their way into the victory column after eight tries.

Battle Creek Central, Benton Harbor, Brighton, Garden City, Highland-Milford, Holland West Ottawa, Howell, Jackson, Kalamazoo Central, Kalamazoo Loy Norrix, Livonia Churchill, Franklin and Livonia Stevenson. Walled Lake Central also has been assigned to the region, which includes high school that have a student population between 1360-3191.

In the meantime, in Class A, there will be some 86 high school fighting it out for the state crown. In that field is Romulus, which has been assigned to Region III where perennial state power, Farmington Hills Harrison, will also be seeking to qualify.

In Class B, for schools with student populations of 509 to 692, local teams - Robichaud and Inkster - have a tough road ahead of them in Region IV. Two perennial state ("B") powers - Detroit Country Day (Birmingham) and Kingsford - will be major threats.

However, Robichaud, under the leadership of coach Robert Yauck, has made it to the playoffs five of the last six years.

In 1993 - the 19th year where the MHSAA used the point-format to qualify teams for the state - Dearborn Fordson, under coach Jeff Sterglas, captured the AA state title, while Farmington Hills Harrison (coach John Herrington) won the Class A title. In BB, East Grand Rapids, with coach George Barcheski, finished atop of the heap and in Class B, thanks to coach Chris Hofer's guidance, Kingsford finally claimed its first title after three unsuccessful trips to the Pontiac Silverdome.

In his third straight final round at HPT, the 32-year-old Belleville resident and businessman beat first-time finalist Steve Foster of Adkins, Texas - 4.824 to 5.006.

Connie, a two-time winner this year and the owner of the Ypsilanti-based American International Airways also turned back Pat Austin of Tacoma, Washington in round one and then fell to Foster in round two (4.973 - 4.900). The 56-year-old Kalitta is now seated number three in the chase for points.

The next event for the American International Airways team is the 16th Annual Mopar Parts Mile-High Nationals will be conducted July 21-24 in Denver, Col.

Happy birthday

Residents share special days with celebrities.

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

David Brown never forgets his wife's birthday, and she never forgets his.

It's virtually impossible for either David or Martha Brown of Belleville to let each other's birthdays slip by because they were born on the same day, July 2.

Martha Brown, a social worker who operates the Brown Family Center, is quick to point out that her funeral director husband, owner of David Brown Funeral Home in Belleville, is five years her senior. The birth dates are the same, but the years are different, she noted.

Not only do they observe their birthdays on the same day, but usually the celebrations occur amidst the fireworks and fanfare of the Fourth of July weekend - another reason that the birthdays cannot be ignored.

This year, their double birthday falls on the same day that Van Buren Township has scheduled its annual Family Day in Van Buren Park and its annual fireworks display.

In addition to the Browns, July 2 marks the birthday of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall and race car driver Richard Petty.

Six-year-old Jocelyn Ann Sielski and Alene Knust of Van Buren Township celebrate their birthdays on July 13, the same day that actor Harrison Ford was born and also the birthday of Julius Caesar.

Canton Township resident Kathryn Ann Stilwell celebrates her seventh birthday on July 31, the same day as actor Don Murray.

Notable people born during the month of July are former President Calvin Coolidge, musician Mitch Miller and columnist Ann Landers, July 4; film star Janet Leigh and entertainment mogul Merv Griffin, July 6; Beatles' drummer Ringo Starr and baseball great Satchel Paige, July 7; former football player, film star and now accused slayer O.J. Simpson, July 9; former President John Quincy Adams, July 11; television comedian Bill Cosby and television pioneer comedian Milton Berle, July 12; former President Gerald Ford, July 14; singer Linda Ronstadt, July 15; former film star Ginger Rogers, July 16; astronaut John Glenn and veteran actor Hume Cronyn, July 18; film star Natalie Wood, July 20; aviator Amelia Earhart, July 24; Mick Jagger of the Rolling Stones, July 26; children's book author Beatrix Potter and the late widow of John F. Kennedy, Jacqueline Onassis, July 28; television news anchor Peter Jennings, July 29, and movie muscle man Arnold Schwarzenegger and automotive pioneer Henry Ford, July 30.

Former assistant named to fill school post

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
ANP Staff Writer

Long-time Wayne-Westland schools employee Dan Slee was appointed as district Assistant Superintendent of Employee Services by members of the school board last week.

"Dan Slee has been working with the district a number of years. I think he'll do an outstanding job," Superintendent of Schools Larry Thomas said.

To fill the position, Slee is leaving his four-year post as executive director to employee services and replacing his former supervisor Bill Taylor, who retired in May after working 34 years in the district.

Slee will assume the responsibilities of negotiating employee contracts, which accounts for nearly 85 percent of the annual school budget, handle all staffing for the district and oversee employee benefits and insurances.

"I don't envy anyone going into that job. It's a job that literally wears you down ... with all the hours he'll spend with employee problems, etc.," Board President Francis Winter said.

"This district needs the expertise and ... know how to get us through a very difficult year ... with contracts that are up, the middle school concept and redistricting." Winter added before the board members unanimously approved Slee's appointment.

While the district is seeking applications for Slee's former position, he will assume the head employee services position July 1 at a salary of $79,419, one-step higher than the other candidates would have received had they been selected.

"He has already been running that department without compensation," Thomas said, adding that Slee has worked in the district several years.

The 50-year-old administrator served the district in various capacities for the past 23 years. Hired in 1971 to serve as a Stevenson Junior High School counselor, Slee quickly advanced to assistant principal of Marshall Junior High School in 1972. He became the executive director of student services in 1975 and retained his last position as employee services executive director in 1990.

Slee earned a bachelor of science degree in English and literature from Eastern Michigan University and a master of arts degree in counseling from the University of Michigan.

Slee began his career as an English teacher at Lincoln Park High School in 1965 and became an English teacher, counselor and wrestling coach at Saline High School in 1966.

Children's book drive exceeds goal

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

Earlier this year, when the Inkster Literacy Council (ILC) and Associated Newspapers began a joint program to supply books to Head Start children, the sponsors established a goal of 300 books - one for each of the pre-school children enrolled in the program.

However, the final count revealed that more than 400 books were contributed to the book drive by the sponsors' staff and readers of the six community newspapers.

"It was a success with more than 400 books being made available for the Head Start children," said Selenia Robinson, ILC coordinator. "The idea and the concept were successful, and we hope that we can co-sponsor another book drive in the future."

Robinson said the donations will allow each child to have a book to bring home for the summer and also provide dozens of books for the Head Start library.

"By providing the children with books for the summer, it will boost the importance of books in the home. If the children have books and their parents read to them, it will encourage them to read in the future. The parents can set the tone," Robinson said.

She noted that early exposure to books is important in setting a pattern of appreciation of reading for youngsters. Robinson said.

Associated Newspapers News Editor Joan Dyer-Zinner and Tom Mooradian of the Inkster Ledger-Star coordinated the book drive in the newspaper offices in Wayne and Belleville and arranged for delivery of the 400 books to the ILC headquarters.

The Associated Newspapers

staff members became interested in the project after the ILC sponsored a successful Christmas book drive, and Robinson was quoted as saying, after she thanked participants, "I want to remind everyone that this is an ongoing project and doesn't end when we unwrap our Christmas gifts. Please donate books. It is a gift that will long be remembered."

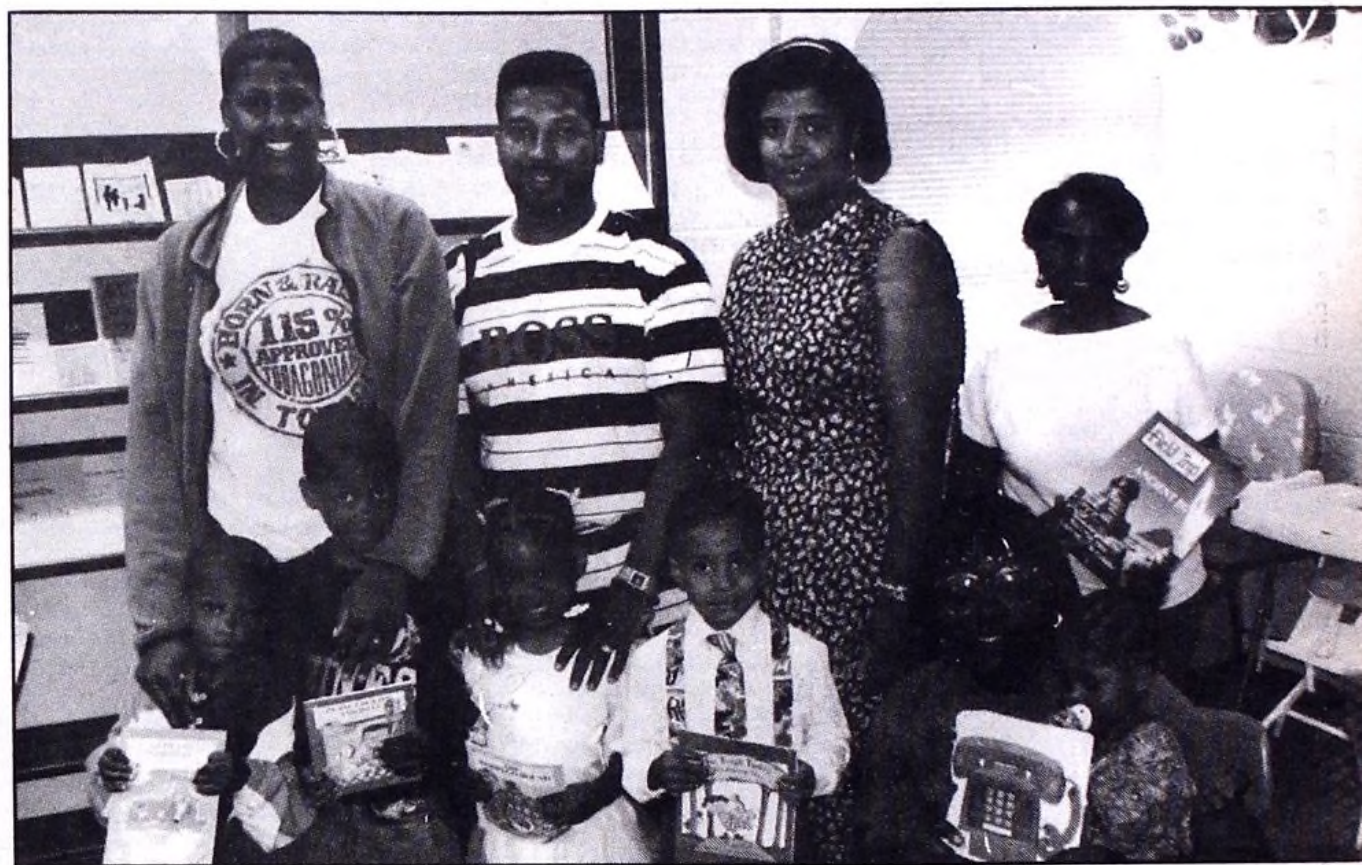

At that point, the staff members contacted Robinson and offered the services of the newspapers to continue the children's book drive.

"We were very pleased with the response of our readers to our request for book donations. Both staff members and the public were generous with their donations of new and used books for the children," Dyer-Zinner said. "We believe it is important for a community newspaper to become involved in the projects that benefit its readers and its future readers."

As a result of the ILC promotion in the Inkster Ledger-Star, seven new literacy teachers were recruited.

"The new tutors are Minnie Tookes, Thearesa Perry, Kathaleen Winslow, Corliss Stephens, Lucy Cross, Geraldine Watson and Katherine Johnson," said Robinson. "After they were trained by Wilzetta Williams, two new tutors began to teach immediately."

Youngsters who received books and their family members are Wendy Tubb (back left), Charisse Motley, Toni Hartke and Vershawn Tiller. # Gift of Reading presented by Inkster Literacy Council

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
News Editor

The gift of reading - the skill that opens the door to knowledge - can be one of the best presents that one ever receives, and the Inkster Literacy Council (ILC) is dedicated to providing that gift to both children and adults.

Part of its program is centered around providing books for pre-school children in the Head Start program, and the other focus of the ILC to teach illiterate people to read.

"Teaching adults to read is very gratifying. Rain or shine, sleet or snow, they are there to learn," said ILC member Selenia Robinson. "They are very faithful students."

Some people want to learn basic skills, how to deal with banking and business and other want to learn to read for personal enjoyment and satisfaction.

"We gear our program to what the person wants to learn. Some want to read the Bible and other want to read the newspaper. We work with the individual's interests to help them to read," Robinson said.

Some individuals contact the literacy council directly, while others are referred by the Wayne County Regional Education Service Agency (RESA), she said.

Adult students are paired with trained volunteer tutors who work with them during the regular school term. At time, students and volunteers may decide to continue their sessions through the summer, meeting at the library or other public buildings.

The Inkster Literacy Council is located in the Meek Career and Adult Education Building, Parkwood and Inkster.

Individuals who are interested in tutoring or in being tutored may contact the council for information.

Frisky young Buick needs maturity

By CRAIG GARRETT
Special Writer

Don't know why, but Buick engineers overlooked ride and handling characteristics laboring over 1994 Skylark Gran Sport design blueprints.

Before getting your nose out of alignment, learn that GM's oldest auto line is as comfortable and eye appealing as any vehicle on American roads, it's just that ride, for some odd reason, isn't up to Buick snuff.

Standard creature comfort goodies on the fully loaded $20,000 Grand Sport road tester read like a list of Who's Who, including: a healthy 3.1L V-6 (new in '94) with 155 horses and 185 ft.-lbs. of torque, which double times surprisingly well combined with the super smooth automatic four-speed; standard ABS and driver air bag (all Buicks); power everything, plus keyless remote, plush wide body seats fore and aft with plenty of head, leg and elbow room, clearcoat paint, a 36,000-mile warranty, roadside assistance and a host of gadgets and widgets that have defined Buick through David Dunbar's porcelain bathtub stage.

But without crawling around on hands and bony knees, it's tough learning more about the mysterious "Gran Touring suspension" available only on Skylark and Regal editions other than standard MacPherson struts and "double acting" hydraulic shocks.

Gran Sport also has 16-inch Eagle GA overshoes that on other Buicks hold the road like hot putty. On Gran Sport, however, tires dribble on smooth asphalt and down right bounce on rougher pavement. Other drivers have mentioned the same curiosity that affects handling, particularly at higher speeds. Go figure.

Suspension peccadillos notwithstanding, Skylark Gran Sport '94 is a wonderfully handsome car with skin like a baby, a dark, cavernous trunk and decent mileage in the 30 mpg neighborhood.

1994 Buick Skylark Gran Sport Sedan.

Fran Francavilla and family are proud of the selection and service at Independent Carpet. ANP photo by Ken Garner

Pricing and service are secret of success

With so many carpet competitors, what is it that makes Independent Carpet stand out in a crowd?

Fran Francavilla believes it is the way they do everyday business.

"We get special pricing from the mill and pass it on to the customers," said the store owner who focuses on top-quality merchandise. "We have something to fit everyone's budget."

Open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday and from noon until 4 on Sunday, customers can browse through more than 900 rolls of carpeting, no-wax vinyl samples and hard wood floor samples to fit any kitchen, library, family room, bathroom or more.

The Westland site, located at 1400 North Wayne Road, is family-owned and operated. Francavilla and her husband, Carl, invested in the business in 1978, and introduced their children, Bob, Chris and Cathy to the business as years went by. Today, everyone who works at Independent Carpet is considered family.

Drawing customers from as far away as Trenton and Ann Arbor, Francavilla emphasizes customer satisfaction.

"We bring in customers from everywhere, because once a customer comes in and they are satisfied, they tell their friends," she said. "Sixty-five percent of the customers are referrals or repeat customers. What I've sold parents, I'm now selling children."

For a limited time, VIP card holders can receive an additional 10-percent savings off regular and sale priced items.
